

Accomplishments, FY 2006

Kit Johnston, Librarian

Element: Service – Technology

Lab/Center web site

- as part of the SWFSC Unified Web Site Team, contributed significantly to creation and testing of the new site
- migrated all content from old lab site, and created a lot of new content
- announced launch of new site to marine science librarians, and to authors of pages linking to our old site
- modified old site to redirect to appropriate pages on new SWFSC site
- acting as webmaster for Fisheries Ecology Division and SWFSC libraries
- maintaining web-based FED organization chart and staff profiles / directory

Element: Service – Library Management

Collection development

- purchased and processed 70 library books (less than usual due to one $3,600 encyclopedia purchase)
- acquired ~50 additional reports from series Canadian Technical Report of Fisheries and Aquatic Sciences

Access to materials

- online journals list: added links to historical archives for about 50 journals, improving access to pre-1997 marine science literature.
- inventoried ~1000 reports from series Canadian Technical Report of Fisheries and Aquatic Sciences
- set up a microfiche system using existing micro scanner, computer, and printer, allowing printing and/or digitizing of our microfiche collection

Element: Service – Library Services

Document delivery

- 90 interlibrary loans for lab staff

Element: Outreach

Professional contacts / networking

- Attended meetings:
 - NOAA Librarians West workshop (Seattle, April 2006)
- Maintained the NOAA Fisheries Library Consortium web site.
 - Site serves as the primary documentation for the consortium and its ongoing activities. I compile the content from a number of sources including meeting reports, conference call minutes, and group email discussions.
 - Site also serves as the group's permanent document repository.
- Set up and administered the NMFS Libraries listserv.
- Professional service to IAMSLIC (an international association of aquatic and marine science librarians):
 - Serving as membership database manager.
 - Updated logo and redesigned invoice and receipt forms.

Document delivery

- 40 interlibrary loans to other libraries
